

CREATE AN INFORMATION ADVANTAGE BY CONNECTING YOUR DATA & INTERFACES IN REAL-TIME

CURRENT INTEGRATION SUMMARY

edgeCore allows enterprises to connect control and data interfaces in multiple ways at the same time bidirectionally with complete role-based and context-based security. Rather than just connecting consoles, streams, and datasets with an API, hybrid embraces a broader set of methods to help applications communicate with other applications regardless of age or interface. Integration methods go beyond API's to also include: web consoles, data queries in multiple forms, VDI, and even command line interfaces (CLI). Getting security and information policy right, speeding automation, and guiding teams require a more inclusive approach to build information advantage that is directly actionable from a single point of control.

For more than twenty years, we have been interfacing and connecting the impossible. Patents for management systems and secure proxy that first surfaced in our earlier AppBoard and enPortal solutions paved the way towards our Hybrid Integration that creates information advantage in a wide set of operational situations.

Beyond these lists, numerous private and heavily customized SaaS solution are able to communicate and work with each other through EdgeCore. We build new adapters every day for our customers that need to connect all their systems.
